Grand Ledge in 1873

Taken from: "Michigan State Gazetteer and Business Directory for 1873," J. E. Scripps & R.L. Polk, Compilers, published Detroit, Tribune Book and Job Office, 1873

This village takes its name from the surrounding bluffs, which are from 75 to 100 feet high along the banks of the Grand river, which passes through the town. This is a fine stream of about 230 feet in width, and furnishes some of the best water powers to be found in the State. Here is one of the finest dams to be found anywhere in the western country, with a fall of some 6 feet, capable of furnishing three or four times the amount of business now being done Just below this dam is a here. handsome double span bridge, built in 1870 (another source states 1873), at a cost of nearly $10,000. Below the village on either side of the river there are numerous quarries of sandstone cropping out from the bluffs, and of a quality second to none in the State. These quarries have not as yet been very extensively worked, and are but little known, for the reason that there has been until lately no means of transportation. Underlying the stratum of sandstone are found extensive beds of coal, equal in quality to any in this State. This article has also been almost entirely neglected simply for the above reason. At this place are also three mineral wells resembling those in other parts of the country, and highly praised for their curative qualities. One of these is sunk to the depth of 512 feet, and the other two are 150 feet each.

This place was settled in or about the year 1837 by P.M. Kent, from Pennsylvania. Harvey Williams, late resident of Charlotte, was the man who set the first stake for a village site. William Russell claims to have been the first merchant (another source states "Reuben Wood & Nathan Allen built the 1st store; Wm. Russell kept the 1st small grocery, also the 1st hotel"). John W. Russell and Abram Smith came here in 1848, and by then the water power was improved in the year 1849, and a saw mill erected at the same time. Mr. Reuben Wood built the first flouring mill about this time also.

The surrounding country is well-timbered with abundance of choice hard wood timber, and the soil is very productive in grain, grass and fruit. In the winter of 1871 a village charter was granted and Edmund Lamson elected the first village president. Its present officers are Edward S. Hammond, president; Jacob L. McPeek, recorder; Orange Johnson, treasurer; Edwin Taylor, marshal.

This place is situated on the line of the Detroit, Lansing & Lake Michigan railroad, about 14 miles northwest from Lansing, and bids fair to become a place of considerable importance when the whole resources of the place are developed.

Together After 38 Years

by Sheila Clark Mott

During the annual Charlotte "Frontier Days," Jane and Dale Bradley of Charlotte visited the Eaton County Genealogical Society library, located on the basement level of the 1885 Historic Courthouse. Jane had been adopted by Bill and Audrey Rouse of Bellevue when she was 2 1/2 years old and now wanted to find her parents and siblings.

After Shirley Hodges (president of ECGS) and I talked with her, Jane decided she wanted to start her mission. Knowing her parent's names was a great help. On microfilm we found her parent's marriage record which listed her father's parents and her mother's parents. Also listed were two witnesses, a sister to her father and a brother to her mother.

Jane already knew that she had six or seven brothers and sisters. After looking into all the records that could help, Jane and Dale placed a notice that she was looking for her parents & siblings, the Ralph H. and Helen Leone (Shepard) Brown family, in the September 27, 1994 issue of the Charlotte Shopping Guide. On September 28, Jane's three sisters, Lucille Wonsey of Winn, Barbara Nichols of Jackson, and Alice Swarthout of Grand Ledge contacted her. Just eighteen days after Jane started her search, she had found three sisters and one brother, Hazen Brown of Mount Pleasant. Both parents are deceased but had always wondered about their daughter. On Saturday, October 8, 1994, the family celebrated with a dinner to welcome Jane, and her husband Dale, back into the family.

There was also one younger brother who had been adopted. Thanks to a fine article published in the Eaton County News and the Charlotte Shopping Guide concerning the reunion, the younger brother, Lynn, was found. Or should I say Lynn found Jane.

Lynn had been adopted by Ed and Mary Goostrey of Charlotte. Lynn and Jane had known each other for over four years, and have worked together for the last three of those! On Saturday, November 5, 1994, the family had another dinner to welcome Lynn back into the family.

Being able to help this family be reunited has been a wonderful experience for me.

The Hall Family History

Thomas was the 1st child born to John and Hannah Arment Hall. Besides Thomas there were 8 more brothers and sisters. Total of 9 children. Thomas was born 3 Aug 1758 in Pennsylvania and Hannah Arment was born 5 Mar 1765 in Concord Twp., Delaware Co., Pennsylvania. Hannah's parents were John Arment and Catherine Tilly Arment. Before 1786 John and Hannah Arment were married, possibly in Concord Co., Pennsylvania. In the year 1796 John and Hannah moved the family to Bellefonte, Centre Co., Pennsylvania. When James Harris and other manufacturers of iron needed a blacksmith, they sent to Delaware Co., Pennsylvania for John Hall to come to Bellefonte. He set up a blacksmith shop and tilt-hammer on Spring Street at the foot of Lamb Street. In 1984, when I was in Bellefonte, the blacksmith shop was still standing on the back of the lot owned once by John Hall. It is being protected as a historical site. John Hall served as a member of Pennsylvania legislature at Harrisburg from 1801-6.

After retiring from his blacksmith business about 1817 he moved to Bald Eagle Valley, Boggs Twp., Centre Co., Pennsylvania where he and Hannah lived until their death. John died 17 Jul 1830 and is buried in the Unionville Cemetery, Centre Co., Pennsylvania. Hannah joined her husband on 18 Nov 1853 and rests next to John in the same cemetery. Even though I have been unable to locate John's official revolutionary papers, he has been honored by the DAR as a patriot of the American Revolution.

Thomas, the 1st son of John and Hannah Hall, was also a blacksmith. For some reasons unknown, Thomas was not as fortunate as his father and brothers, John and Robert, both blacksmiths. He was first found 1815 in the Spring Twp. tax assessment across the street from his parents on Spring Street, Bellefonte, Pennsylvania. Second, he was found 1818 in the same location. Next, in 1820, he is located in Boggs Twp. with children, Catherine Hall 9 years and John Hall 6 years. His final location in Pennsylvania was in Rush Twp., Centre Co. In the tax assessment list of 1828 he was listed as "Thomas Hall, blacksmith, very poor with a large family. 2 children of school age. Jesse Hall 10, Dec. 1827 and James Hall 8, Aug 1827." This was the last I found Thomas Hall in Pennsylvania, however, the death record for his youngest child, William A. Hall, indicates William was born in Pennsylvania on 29 Feb 1832.

Some time after the birth of William A. Hall, Thomas and Hannah moved again. This time he is found in Perry Twp., Wayne Co., Ohio. This part of Wayne Co. later became Ashland Co., Ohio in 1846. It was here he bough 4 1/2 acres and a spring on 11 May 1839. He remains here until 13 Nov 1853 when he sold his 4 1/2 acres and a spring to Henry Switzer. With Hannah he goes to live with his daughter, Mary B. Hall Mulhollan, on her farm in Carmel Twp., Eaton Co., Michigan. He died 21 Sep 1854 at her home and is buried in the Carmel Twp. Cemetery on the lot of Hugh Mulhollan. "Mother" lies next to him, but we don't know the date of Hannah Barrett Hall's death.

It is a noteworthy fact, for anyone interested, that Thomas named all his children, except Mary and William, after his brothers and sisters. His children were--

- 1. Catharine b. 1811, no other information of her is known.
- 2. John b. 1814, no other information known.
- 3. Mary b. 3 Oct 1815.

- 4. Jesse b. 1817, little information.
- 5. James b. 1819, no other information known.
- 6. Robert b. 1822, it is believed he went West, but where?
- 7. Amos b. 1825. He was the father of Mary Hall Bentley of Eaton Rapids. He had other children.
- 8. William A. b. 29 Feb 1832. He was a resident of Eaton Rapids, Michigan.

This history brings us up to the family of William A. Hall and Mary Metcalf who were married 25 Oct 1852, Richland Co., Ohio. Their children were--

- 1. Olive C. Hall b. 14 Aug 1853, Toledo, Lucas Co., Ohio; m. John 9. Caple 1872.
- 2. John Thomas Hall b. 30 Mar 1855, Ohio, d. 1925; m. Jennie Humphreys 1880.
- 3. Mary Ella aka Ellen Hall b. 1858, Ohio; m. William H. Gannon 1881.
- 4. Amos L. Hall b. 1861, d. 1880.
- 5. Walter Hall b. 1864, d. 1864.
- 6. Andrew Jackson Hall b. 1865, d. 1921; m. Hannah Woodworth 1885.

Mary Metcalf Hall died 4 Dec 1871 in Eaton Rapids, Michigan.

William A. Hall married Julia E. Booth 17 Dec 1873, Eaton Rapids, Michigan. Julia E. Booth b. 11 Mar 1842, Tompkins Co., N.Y., d. 15 May 1899 Eaton Rapids, Michigan. Her parents are unknown.

Their child--

 Hugh Mulholland Hall b. 29 Oct 1875 Eaton Rapids, Michigan, d. 1 Jun 1960, Eaton Rapids, M1.; m. Jessie Jane Bellows b. 25 Oct 1875 Eaton Rapids Twp., Michigan, d. 14 Dec 1977, aged 102 years, Eaton Rapids, M1. They were married 30 Mar 1897, Eaton Rapids, Michigan

The Twenty-third Surname by Florence A. Lembeck

Genealogy is my shepherd, I shall not rest; It maketh me to lie down to read broken tombstones. It leadeth me to far-off libraries; it restoreth my youth.

It leadeth me in the paths of research for my surname's sake.

Yea, though I walk through the dingy aisles of archives, I fear no evil; for the thirst for history is with me; the birth and death records, they comfort me.

Archivists place records on a table before me in the presences of waiting genealogists; Mine eyes are burning midnight oil, my brain overfloweth. Surely censuses and vital records shall follow me all the days of my life; and I shall dwell in the musty basements of courthouses #### forever.

Editor's comment- I have been thoroughly delighted with the two poems which Florence has graciously allowed us to publish in our magazine. Her pen has some very special talent indeed, and I hope we will be blessed with more of her humor in the future. Thank you so much, Florence, for sharing what is truly the life of a genealogist.

By Edgar A. Guest

You got it from your father. 'Twas the best he had to give. And right gladly he bestowed it. It's your, the while you live. You may lost the watch he gave you -- and another you may claim.

But remember, when you're tempted, to be careful of his name.

It was fair the day you got it, and a worthy name to bear. When he took it from his father, there was no dishonor there; Through the years he proudly wore it, to his father he was true,

And that name was clean and spotless when he passed it on to you.

Oh, there's much that he has given that he values not at all. He has watched you break your playthings in the days when you were small.

You have lost the knife he gave you and you've scattered many a game.

But you'll never hurt your father if you're careful with his name.

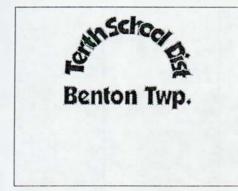

It is yours to wear forever, yours to wear the while you live. Yours, perhaps, some distant morning, to another boy to give. And you'll smile as did your father -- with a smile that all can share --

If a clean name and a good name you are giving him to wear.

Each of these names represent something other than just a surname. How many families can make a claim like this? Marie

A brief sketch and history of the organization of the Tenth School District of the Township of Benton.

The original was hand written by Savay Goodrich about 1922 and typed up by Robert Haigh in 1990. This school was on the corner of Benton and Gresham road and now has been changed into a home. It was called the Myers School District #10.

In the summer and fall of 1872 the neighbors held two meetings for the purpose of forming a school district. A petition was drawn up and signed by Columbus Goodrich, Riley Kingman, Henry Brouse, Asa Goodrich, George Myers, and Thomas Jaw. This petition was presented to the school inspector of the township and in February 1873 there was a meeting held to hear the petition. This petition was opposed and a (_____?) was presented, signed by seventeen men opposing the granting of the new district.

After some heated discussion, the school inspector told them if they wanted a new district without the farms now owned by Carson Haigh and Jay Austin, he would grant them one and this was done. In May they appointed a temporary board - Riley Kingman as chairman, and Columbus Goodrich as sceretary. The job of building the school house was let to James Lipscy (6 || 549.50?), The land for the school site was got of Henry Brouse and Asa Goodrich, a quarter of an acre of land each and school was commenced in November.

In 1889, at a special school meeting, it was voted to move the school house up to the corner, 1/2 mile where it now is. This added the south half of Section 19 and George and Jerome Cady's land- an additional 3/4 of a section of land to the district. The value of the district in 1873 was $42,000.00 Its present value now is $164,000.00.

In 1895 the school house was repaired and a new entrance was added. In 1898 free text books were added. This cost the district an average of $7.68 a year for books for the school. In 1917 the district bought 1/2 acre of land and placed the windows on the south side of the school house and this school is now known by the state department as a standard school in West Benton.

This school district has had 60 different school teachers. The first was Ella Tood and the last was Mac Walsh. It has cost the tax payer of this school district to build and maintain $20,410.90, and the last 11 years has cost as much as the first 38 years of our school.

*Editors note- your editor has made a few slight editorial changes in this history (i.e. spelling/grammar) but has not changed the content. Questionable material has been indicated in the first two paragraphs by (?). Otherwise it is as Savay Goodrich wrote it and Robert Haigh transcribed it and submitted the same to the "QUEST."

PERRINE SCRAPBOOK

The following newspaper clippings can be found in a scrapbook housed in the Eaton County Genealogical Society's library rooms. The scrapbook is numbered #28. The book belonged to the Perrine family. None of the clippings have been documented with date or name/location of the newspaper- some are obviously local Eaton Co. papers and other clippings are from other cities and states. Handwritten on the inside cover of the scrapbook is: "Madgie, Accept this little token of graditude and love, from one who is deeply interested in your welfare. Be very critical my dear upon every article you enter upon these pages for they will doubtless have a great influence upon your future, and will serve as an index to show the bent of your mind. Your Affect. Aunt, C.C.P. Taylor"

In Memoriam

The memorial services of Charles Perrine were held at the Baptist church, Sunday morning, Nov. 12, 1882. A memorial sermon was preached by his pastor, Rev. Gilbert Jrederick, from the text, "Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord."

Deacon Charles Perrine was born in Lyons, N.Y., on the 20th day of August, 1814. At Lyons the days of his childhood were spent. When he was 14 years old he came to Ripley county, Indiana, in company with his father, David Perrine, who is now living in his 93rd year. In Ripley county he spent the most important part of his days. Here, for the first time in his life he saw a believer buried with Christ in baptism, and he determined, should he ever become a christian, to follow his Lord into a watery grave. Here in 1838, he was converted at the age of 21, and joined the Pike Creek Baptist church. In the following year he was married to Miss Lucinda A. Whitehead, with whom he spent his remaining years. Of the children three died in infancy, one at the age of seven. One gave himself to his country at Vicksburg in 1863. Jive, two sons and three daughters, still live. Here he established himself as a successful farmer, and during the war, as a means of saving the union was ceaselessly active in politics.

In 1870 he removed from Indiana to Centralia where he remained until his departure for the better country.

A brief synopsis of his character and life are here given, not for the purpose of praising him, though he is worthy of praise; not to picture him as a faultless man, for no man is faultless, but to draw profitable lessons for the benefit of the living.

Charles Perrine had a clear mind. He was a quiet thinker. He was well read in the Bible, was well up in the current social and religious questions of the day and uniformly held right opinions concerning them. His favorite doctrine was the doctrine of the atonement. He loved it most because it was pre-eminently the heart of God. He was a good hearer. It was a pleasure to preach to him. He measured a sermon, not by its power to please, but by its ability to do good. Every sermon was a good one if it contained the Lord. He was a wise counsellor; in church discipline he was kind yet none the less just. His business matters were so well attended to that now he is dead there are no incumbrances upon his estate, no neglected obligations, no labyrinthine complications.

He possessed a controlling will which showed itself in his quiet but persistent perseverence; yet he was not unyielding or stubborn or overbearing as such wills are likely to be. The highest type of will-power, is the power to control the will. This he possessed in a good degree. He was willing in church work, to do whatever he could, too rare a grace, alas, among church members.

He was an even tempered man; always hopeful, he was always cheerful. He had a large, warm heart; you could sit down in it and not freeze.

His religious life continued 47 years among men, and the verdict of all is "He was a good man!" He was fervent in spirit, ever solicitous for the unsaved, and deeply burdened for some who were upon his heart.

Truly a good man has fallen in Israel, yet, fallen to us only. As the sun sets to us but rises in the Eastern world, so mortals cry a man is dead but angels sing a child is born.

EATON RAPIDS

The social event of the season here occurred Wednesday evening, being the celebration of the fiftleth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. A.H. Brainard, aged 73 and 68 years respectively. The invited guests to the number of 350 assembled at the Methodist Church, of which Mr. and Mrs. Brainard are prominent members, and were entertained in a very happy manner. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A.R. Boggs, pastor of the church. The bride was attired in a plaid silk dress over forty years old; the hair was dressed in the mode of fifty years ago, with puffs, and a white cap trimmed with orange blossoms direct from California.

After the ceremony the old people received the congratulations of those present, after which Rev. D.P. Breed, of the Congregational Church, in a very happy manner presented the gifts, which consisted of $100 in gold, a very fine china dinner and tea set, a pair of gold-boxed spectacles for each, gold-lined goblets, an expensive old-fashioned sconce and many other articles of less value.

The supper was excellent, and the tables very artistically arranged. Among the friends present were two sisters of the bride, one of whom, Mrs. Spencer, of Saybrook, Ill., she had not seen in thirty-five years.

DEATH OF A SOLDIER OF THE WAR OF 1812

CENTRALIA, JLL., March 20- David W. Perrine, a soldler of the war of 1812, died here to-day, aged 95. He was high in Jree Masonry and, with a single exception, probably the oldest member of the order in the United States, having been one of the fraternity over seventy years.

MRS. GEORGE LAKE

That terrible disease, consumption, has caused the death of another of our citizens this week. Mrs. Geo. Lake, living on the corner of Jront and 18th streets, died unexpectedly last Tuesday night. Mr. and Mrs. Lake and child came to Boulder, from the southern part of the state early last spring, in hopes that our invigorating climate would be a benefit to Mrs. Lake's ailing health. She appeared to enjoy good health until fall weather set in, when she was prostrated and kept growing worse until death ensued. Mrs. Lake was an intelligent and sociable lady and one who would command the respect and adoration of all who came within her presence. Mr. Lake has been engaged in mining near Gold Hill the past summer and is favorably known by most of our citizens. The bereaved father and child have the sincere sympathy of their many friends.

PERRINE

Died of inflammation of the bowels, at Paradise, Wise Co., Texas, April 4, 1884, my dear mother, Jane C. Perrine, aged 49 years, 2 months, and 19 days. She had professed Christianity thirty-two years and had been connected with the Seventh Day Adventists about twenty years. She loved this last message, and died in full hope of finally standing with the 144,000 on the sea of glass. She was a member of the Centerville church, Kansas, at the time of her death. Her health failing, she went to Texas in hope of being benefited; but death claimed her as his prey. She died trying to repeat the twenty-third Psalm. She sleeps in Jesus, and we look forward with bright anticipations of meeting her when Jesus comes to wake the sleeping saints. Juneral sermon by the Baptist minister of that place. George Perrine

REV. W.H. PERRINE

Rev. W. H. Perrine, who has a wide reputation as a preacher, lecturer, educator and artist, has already distinguished himself in General Conference as the advocate of a separate judicial body for laymen, a measure which he can now advocate under more favorable auspices. He possesses a tenacious grasp of his subject, and if he had undertaken to tunnel the Atlantic he would see it accomplished, or die in the attempt. He is conservative in church polity, has little personal ambition, and esteems loyalty to God and conscience the highest ideal of manhood.

DEATH OJ THE REV. W.H. PERRINE

The Rev. W. H. Perrine, a Methodist clergyman of Albion, died Saturday at 2 o'clock p.m. Wm. Henry Perrine, D.D. was born at Lyons, N.Y., October 8, 1827. His ancestry was of the Huguenots who fled to America in 1785. In 1833 the family settled in Sandstone, Mich., where William procured books and studied by the firelight. When 19 he entered Michigan (now Hillsdale) college, from which he graduated in 1853, paying his way by teaching. In 1851 he was appointed to the South Albion circuit. In 1852 he was stationed in Jackson. After graduating he was appointed successively to Hastings, Detroit, Adrian, Ann Arbor, Jlint, Albion college, Cansing, Albion College, St. Joseph and Albion.

He married Miss L.E. Benedict October 7, 1854. Mrs. Perrine filled the chairs of languages and mathematics, and acted as preceptress in Albion college with ability. In 1858, and again in 1868, they made trips to Europe and the Holy Land. In 1871 the degree of D.D. was conferred upon him by Albion college, in which he had filled two professorships. He occupied many positions of note in Methodist conferences, state and national, and has long been a conspicuous figure in that church.

DEATH OJ DR. PERRINE

On Monday morning last this community was shocked by news of the death of Dr. Wm. H. Perrine, who died at his home in Albion on Saturday, the 22d inst., at 2 o'clock, of pneumonia, after an illness of only one week. Jew people knew of his illness until they heard of his death. A month ago when he was last in this city to visit his daughter, who is a teacher in our public schools, he was in unusually good health and spirits. Never was the charm of his society more impressive, never was the play of his intelligence more brilliant, and never was the promise of his influence and usefulness greater. In the prime of his life, in the meridian of his brilliant intellectual powers, in the very height of his great usefulness, he is suddenly stricken down by death. His death is mourned in this city, as we are sure it is in every quarter of the State, with a sincerity and a profundity of grief born of the tenderest sympathy and the strongest affection.

William Henry Perrine was born in Lyons, N.Y., Oct. 8, 1827, and was therefore 53 years of age at the time of his death. He traced his lineage back to the Huguenots who fied to America as an asylum where liberty and freedom from persecution could be enjoyed. About 1834 the family removed to Sandstone, in Jackson county, in this state. Reared upon a farm, he early manifested an absorbing interest in books, which he gratified under the usual difficulties surrounding pioneer life on the frontier. The indomitable powers of his great soul, which afterwards made him famous, enabled him to surmount these difficulies. At 19 he entered Michigan (now Hillsdale) College at Spring Arbor. Paying his way by teaching and other employments, he graduated in 1853. Two years previous he had entered the Methodist ministry, and was stationed at South Albion. Thus his first labors were practically on the same theater of action as his last. 9n 1852 he was stationed at Jackson. After graduating, he was stationed successively at Hastings, Detroit, Adrian, Ann Arbor, Jlint, Albion College, Lansing, Lansing District, Albion College, St. Joseph, and Albion.

In October, 1854, he married Miss L.E. Benedict, who survives him. She is a lady of much refinement, culture, and worth, but whose modesty is only equaled by her ability. She has filled the chairs of Languages and Mathematics, and acted as Preseptress in Albion College with marked ability.

In 1858, and again in 1868, Mr. Perrine visited Europe and the Holy Land. His observations there enriched his learning and deepened his philosophy. As a result of these travels and studies he painted a map giving a bird's-eye view of Palestine, showing the topography of that wonderful country with marvelous accuracy which is a rare and valuable volume in itself. In 1871 Albion College, in which he had filled two Professorships, conferred the degree of Doctor of Divinity upon him, a distinction which he most worthily bore, and in conferring which the College did itself a high honor. In 1872, 1876, and 1880 Dr. Perrine was elected a member of the General Conference of the Methodist Church, the sessions being held at Brooklyn, Baltimore, and Cincinnati, where he made himself conspicuous for his untiring zeal, his great learning, his rare eloquence, and his almost invincible powers in debate.

Dr. Perrine was one of the most widely known and most dearly beloved clergymen in Michigan. He was especially the friend of the young men of the ministry, and was admired and loved by them in a very unusual degree. His genial and generous nature made him the trusted friend of all who knew him at all intimately. He will be deeply mourned as a brother lost by thousands of friends in all parts of the state, and in other states.

Dr. Perrine was a man endowed by nature with varied and unusual abilities. His native powers had been stimulated and cultivated by thorough education, extended culture, and profound thought. An alert mind, a vivid imagination, a tender yet strong sensibility, and a ready and copious command of clear, strong, and beautiful language made him one of the most eloquent orators of the country. His was a most rare combination of mental powers. His mind was not less massive and strong than brilliant and sentimental. A truly eloquent man, he was also exceptionally able in debate and invincible in argument. He forged the chain of logic with invincible links of steel in the same paragraph in which he showered the flowers of rhetoric and the gems of impassioned eloquence thick as leaves of Vailambrosia. A vivid fancy, strong logical powers, clear and forcible statement, broad and powerful grasp of thought, varied and accurate learning, and profound philosophy made Dr. Perrine one of the most thoroughly and formidably equipped men, and one of the truly remarkable men, of his time. He was a powerful preacher, he was a learned and entertaining lecturer, he was a forcible and convincing writer, and he was a logical and argumentative debater. He was at once brilliant and profound, eloquent and logical, and artist and logician.

In his private and domestic relations Dr. Perrine was one of the truest, tenderest, most affectionate and most generous of men. He never forgot a kindness, never was untrue to a friend. His life was pure and blameless. He loved his friends most tenderly-- and they were legion-- and was beloved as few men are. Generous, large hearted, pure, unselfish, he attached his friends to him with hooks of steel. We knew of no man in Michigan whose death would have carried so sharp a pain to as many hearts as that of Dr. Perrine. Having preached or lectured in almost every considerable town in the state, his acquaintance was widely extended, and his death carries sorrow and bereavement into thousands of family circles.

To his family his loss is irreparable. He leaves a wife and four daughters, one of whom is a confirmed invalid. The eldest, Miss Lura Perrine, graduated at Albion last June with the highest honors and is a teacher in the public schools of this city. The second daughter, Clara, of the rarest intellectual powers, is an invalid from disease of the nervous system. The third daughter, Florence, is just entering womanhood, and Edie, the youngest, is a sweet child of perhaps 12 years. The most affectionate of husbands and the tenderest of fathers are lost to his family in the death of Dr. Perrine.

The funeral services were conducted by Dr. L.R. Jisk, President of Albion College in the Methodist church at Albion on Tuesday last. The church was crowded by a weeping audience, and hundreds came only to turn sorrowing away because the church was filled to overflowing. Many were here from a distance to pay the last sad tribute to their departed friend and brother. A large number of Methodist ministers followed the casket as tearful mourners. From this city Presiding Elder Jacokes, Rev. H.M. Joy and wife, Dr. W.H. Ha_?, Mr. George Mack, and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. J. Sanford were among those who attended the funeral.

In the death of Dr. Perrine the Methodist Church loses one of her most brilliant, able and useful ministers, Christianity and Christian education lose a stout hearted and zealous champion, the state loses one of her most honored and useful citizens, his large circle of attached friends and his immediate family suffer irreparable bereavement.

A GOLDEN SURPRISE PARTY

On Thursday evening last Mr. and Mrs. D.W. Perrine celebrated their golden wedding -- or, rather, their numerous friends did it for them. The elegant rooms and spacious halls of the residence of Mr. Charles Perrine were brilliantly lighted and thronged with a large company of ladies and gentlemen who gathered together for the purpose of paying their respects to the aged and honorable pair who had shared the joys and sorrows of half a century. To them it was a surprise as complete as it was pleasant. The old couple live by themselves in a small, neat cottage near the residence of their son.

It was soon evident that their house would not begin to accommodate the throng of friends, so the astonished and happy pair were escorted to the more commodious house of their son, and assigned the position of honor by Mr. and Mrs. M.H. Monkhouse.

And now came Kev. Dr. Keed who offered an appropriate prayer of praise and adoration to the Giver of all good and perfect gifts. After which he made an address, alluding in a happy manner to their experience through an unusually long life. He spoke of the troubles and pleasures, of the patient persistent labor of the deserved success, of the purity of character, the uprightness of action, which had governed their general life, closing with the ceremony of re-confirming the marriage obligations made half a century ago.

Then came the examination of the various presents, enlivened with social chat, cheerful mirth, accompanied with entertainment in the way of cake, fruit, nuts, etc.

At a reasonable hour the party left for their homes, wishing the aged couple abundant happiness during the remainder of their journey in this life, and a perpetual joy in the future.

A CARD OF THANKS

We desire to tender our sincere thanks to the kind friends for their affectionate remembrance of us, on Thursday evening, the 19th instant -- our fiftieth wedding anniversary. We were not more surprised by their cheering presence than we were by the beautiful gifts which were brought as tokens of regard.

All, dear friends, are valued beyond expression. May you be spared to be remembered in like manner. You can then better understand our gratitude and appreciation.

That God may bless you is the prayer of

D.W. and C.M. Perrine

BARNY- In this city on the evening of the 11th of October, 1883, Wm. G. Barney, at the ripe age of 87 years and 10 days.

Mr. Barney was born in H_?, Kent county, England. He came to this country in 1834 and located in Marshall in the fall of 1835. Jew have lived in the place longer than he. He was well known by all the older citizens and was respected for his integrity and industry. At the early ago of 14 he was confirmed in the church of England. After coming to Marshall he united with Trinity church, of this city, and was a member of the same at his death. Though much enfeebled by age, for some time previous to his decease he seemed to be ripening for the kingdom. Last winter two cottage prayer meetings were held at his house, which he seemed greatly to enjoy. He expressed himself as ready and willing to depart and be with Jesus. His last sickness was short and his end peaceful and serene.

The funeral was attended at the house on Sunday afternoon, Oct. 14th. The services, conducted by his rector, the Rev. Mr. Walton, were very impressive and the singing by the Christian choir was highly appreciated and much admired. #### DEATH CLAIMS

Wm. C. Harrison, Thursday Morning, July 17th

William C. Harrison died at his residence in this city yesterday morning, of consumption, aged 57 years. He was well known, having spent a number of years of his life in Marshall.

He was born April 5, 1827, in Jarmington, Ontario Co., N.Y. He was the youngest of a family of six children. In his infancy his parents removed to Lockport, N.Y. where the deceased spent his boyhood days. At about 13 years of age he entered the printing office in charge of his brother. At the age of 15 he enlisted as a second class apprentice in the U.S. navy, intending to become a sailor, but the sea air not agreeing with him he was obliged to relinquish his ambitious scheme and returned, after a brief trial of six months of sea life, to his paternal roof. Regaining his health he entered the office of the Niagara Courier, where he remained for about four years, and then joined his brother, who was carrying on a printing office in the city of Rochester. After two years sojourn in Rochester, he and his brother removed to Racine, Wis., where, until 1853, they carried on the book and printing business together.

In 1857 the deceased began to publish a paper at Vernon Springs, Jowa, which not proving a financial success, was soon abandoned, and he returned to Racine. Here he remained two years and then, Dec. 31, 1859, married Lydia R. Gates, of Homer, and in less than a year thereafter he moved to Albion, Mich., where in the fall of 1861 he joined the union army and remained in the service fourteen months. He was discharged Dec. 12, 1862, on account of a wound received at the battle of Perrysville, Ky., Oct. 8th previous.

In 1864 he sought and found work at Marshall, where he continued at his trade until 1868, when he was induced to try his hand once more at the newspaper business in Albion. To him this proved as unsuccessful venture. He again went to Kacine, and in 1871 returned to Marshall, where he remained until his death.

In December 1881, his first wife died a peaceful and happy death. He afterwards married Mrs. Abbie E. Dean, who survives him, and whose faithful and devoted care of him during his long illness was most gratefully felt and acknowledged by him.

Mr. Harrison was a faithful and devoted member of the Christian church. He was always in his place on the Sabbath and at the prayer and fellowship meetings, when it was possible for him to be there. He was generous beyond his means in supporting the church and all its interests. As a citizen he was justly respected and was termed by all who knew him a good man.

The funeral will be held at the house tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock, Rev. D.E. Millard officiating. The remains will be interred at Albion.

Miss Myrtie Perrine made her first appearance on the stage as a violinist (violin solo, "Life's A Dream") last Friday evening at the concert given by Helicon Band. Miss Perrine has taken lessons only one and a half terms, and her execution does credit not only to herself but also to her instructor, J.W. Waters. Her number on the program was greeted with a hearty round of applause, and a splendid bouqet was presented. Miss Perrine is commendably ambitious, and the SENCINEL cordially extends good wishes and encouragement. We are assured that the lady appreciates most highly the warm reception given her by the people of Centralia, and that if she should reach the standard of her hopes, no honor can efface the pleasant memory of the cordial welcome on this her first appearance.

The children were playing about a hay rack, which had been turned up on its side and rested against the fence. By some means the rack was overturned and one of the heavy crossbeams struck little Harry on the right temple, knocking him to the ground. He was picked up lifeless and carried home, with blood flowing profusely from both ears. Medical assistance was immediately summoned, but the little fellow's life had been crushed out almost, if not quite, instantaneously. #### THE GRIM REAPER

Nora Blanche Smith was born at Eaton Rapids, Mich., December 3d, 1864; was converted and received into the Jirst Congregational church of that city in the spring of 1882, following a series of religious services held by the pastor, Rev. D. Payson Breede, assisted by Rev. Holmes, D.D. and Rev. J.T. Otis. Removed with her parents to DeSmet, Dak., in May of the same year.

She was united in marriage to Walter N. Carroll December 31, 1885 by Rev. W. B. D. Gray.

Died Monday, June 4th, 1888, at 8:10 in the morning.

Since the birth of her child, April 12th, Mrs. Carroll has been very ill and her condition and progress has been followed with deep interest by everybody in the city.

Although she had but few intimate friends - - being of a very retiring disposition - - she was highly esteemed and respected by all and numbered among her well-wishers every man, woman and child.

All through her life Mrs. Carroll has been in poor health, though uncomplaining always, and possessed of the kindest, sweetest and most sunny-tempered disposition.

Her seemingly premature death is mourned by all. Her husband, parents and relatives the _____? irreparable, and her absence will be felt and mourned by them until they are reunited on The Other Side.

The funeral services were held at the Congregational church, Tuesday, conducted by Rev. J.R. Bonney, and the remains were taken to the old Eaton Rapids home for interment, accompanied by the husband, parents and her mother's sister, Mrs. Barnes.

All of our people feel the deep, dark sorrow which has overtaken this here-to-fore happy home and their sympathies go with the mourners. They would utter words of consolation, but language is too feeble and cold to express comfort to the woe-stricken spirit, at such a time, with such a loss. - DeSmet (Dak.) News.

SAD HEARTS INDEED

It seldom falls to the lot of a newspaper writer to perform so sad a duty as is ours, In recording the death of Mrs. Eva A. Barnes, wife of Wm. J. Barnes, and second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Smith.

Only last June she was preceded to "that better land" by her sister, Mrs. W.N. Carroll, the elder daughter. The days of mourning are yet new - the wounds unhealed when another member of the family is called to "that bourne whence no traveler returns." The hidden hand, from the "other side" waves us on - we cannot but obey the beck.

Language has no words with which to offer consolation to the grief stricken parents, husband, sister and friends. Under such sorrow, as has fallen upon this family, hope fails; faith becomes doubt; sympathy a mockery - life a burden. Time but deadens the pain; to the loving heart "one hundred years is but a single day." To the Healer of all wounds, alone, can they turn for consolation.

Eva J. Smith was born in Eaton Rapids, Mich., June 24, 1866; was married to W.J. Barnes Sept. 8th, 1886. Died Sept. 27, 1888.

The funeral services were held in the Congregational church, conducted by Rev. J.R. Bonney, Saturday, Sept. 29, 1888. The remains were taken to Eaton Rapids for Interment, accompanied by the husband, mother and sister, for whom every heart in our city beats in sympathy, as well as for the lonley, suffering father, who returns to his daily toil.

OBITUARY

Catherin Cooper Perrine was born at Lyons, Wayne county, N.Y., June 21, 1825. Her parents were Henry Perrine and Esther Gilbert, his wife, she being the 9th child of twelve children, all of whom living to mature years. They were of Hugenot ancestry, French Presbyterians, she being of the 7th generation of the French refugees who fled from the persecutions that followed the revocation of the edict of Nantes in 1685, under Louis XIV. They embarked at Rochelle, coming by the way of the Netherlands with 70 other refugees, on the ship Caledonia, and covenanted on the sea that they and their children would be the Lord's to the latest generation. We have been able to trace a pious, and devoted ancestry down each succeeding generation. It is an heirloom for us - the blessing of the Lord.

In childhood and youth, she was characterized by great modesty and diffidence. She have her heart to Christ in her 15th year, during a revival held in Sandstone, in the winter of 1840-1 by ministers of M.E. church, Thomas and Pilezel, good men of God. Her life was in keeping with her profession. She was in earnest in serving the Lord. I remember an incident while in her 17th year, teaching school 2 1/2 miles north of home, she came twice during the week to pray at the home alter, saying it seemed she would starve for spiritual food, among the professed christians.

She afterwards attended the Michigan Central college for a few terms. While there she was sick nigh unto death, but was raised up to health, she believed in answer to prayer, not only by Christians there but wherever she had taught school, we learned there had been circles of prayer in her behalf.

The spirituality of her daily life was always felt at home. She was careful and watchful to live in harmony with the divine will. She was of quick temper when young.  $\Im$ heard her relate to the young that God had helped her, had by his grace subdued her, that she had recently knelt upon a spot where in her childhood she had endured great agony of remorse for her great anger. She said: "I knelt down on the same spot and praised God for what he had done for me in subduing, and I have not felt anger for years."

She was next younger than myself, I knew more of her than anyone; I can truly say she walked closely with God. Her influence was always for good, she loved the house of God. His people were her people, her home in after years was a home for the servants of God.

If remember her labors for the orphans at Adrian and heard solicitations in their behalf. She visited poor houses, said it was no place for children; what would a timid child like myself have done there? I asked of her labors in regard to the orphans at Adrian, of the work she had done in regard to the school at Coldwater. "Oh, very little," she said. I asked for a printed circular she had and used in her work; she gave me one. Becoming sick from exposure, she came home feeling the work to be too great for private benevolence. While sick, she asked William to write for her a petition that might be presented to the legislature. Soon Mrs. Gaviland came to see her; she have her the petition William had written. Mrs. Haviland says in her work, "with my bill in my pocket." I think the next winter Pres. Mahan, Mrs. Haviland and others with the senator from the district, presented it in the form of a bill. I remember while still on her sick bed, the state had granted its thousands for the founding of an institution which has been copied by other states. Although she had done but little, she had done what she could, had been one of incipent movers of the general movement.

Her labors in the temperance cause, and her love for every good work, is well known, it only needs to be recorded. The ladies of the W.C.T.U. by lovely foral offerings showed their appreciation of her efforts in the temperance cause.

Notwithstanding her natural timidity, in the cause of righteousness she was immovable, nothing daunted her. In all the varied relations of life she was a wealth of affection, loving, kind and true. Now that her work is done, her memory is a treasure. We cannot but rejoice for her. The beauty and purity of her character, distinguished by its great humility and truthfulness combined with her zeal and love of God, is a better inheritance than sons and daughters. The righteous shall be in everlasting remembrance.

She was married Aug. 10th, 1851 to Mr. Josiah Taylor, a devout good man, who proved to her a loving, sympathizing companion. She left us Nov. 19, 1891, for the rest that remaineth for the people of God. Her remains were brought to Sandstone, to the old home, a large number of friends and relatives coming by the cars, where services were held by the Rev. Joster, while rich floral offerings of white roses were added as tributes of affection to decorate for her last sleep, this lovely child of God. She is buried with her kindred.

JOYOUS WEDDING BELLS JENNINGS - JOREMAN

One of the most brilliant assemblies that ever graced a Charlotte drawingroom gathered at the handsome home of Mr. George Joreman last Wednesday evening to witness the nuptials of Jra C. Jennings, a prominent young attorney of Escanaba and May Louise Joreman of Charlotte.

A few minutes after six o'clock the wedding party - consisting of the pastor, Rev. Geo. D. Lee, the bride and groom, Miss Nellie Joreman and Mr. T.J. Green, Miss Jennings and Mr. H.K. Jennings - was ushered into the presence of the guests, the impressiveness of the occasion being greatly enhanced by the rendition of Mendelsshon's march by Miss Pratt and Miss Grier.

The bride was most becomingly attired in handsome cream-white India silk; Miss Jennings wore light blue and Miss Joreman light pink; all entrain. The gentlemen wore conventional black.

A sumptuous luncheon followed the ceremony and congratulations, soon after which the happy pair took the evening train for Chicago, there to remain a few days before continuing the journey to their northern home.

Mr. and Mrs. Jennings are both graduates of the Charlotte high school, the former continuing his studies at the University and the latter at Albion College. Both are universally popular, and, although their legion of Eaton county friends will greatly regret their departure, we are fully confident that with the good people of Escanaba they will find contentment, happiness and prosperity.

The presents were most elaborate, expensive and numerous, as the following list will prove:

One-hundred-dollar bill, gold watch and chain, book-case and couch.......(goes on to give a long list of gifts)

DEATH OF JENNIE BOARDMAN

No death has caused so much sorrow in this community for a long time as that of Miss Jennie Boardman, at the Anderson House, Jriday afternoon, Dec. 29, 1882. She had been sick for seven weeks with congestion of the brain, and although recovery seemed almost impossible, still many hoped and prayed for it.

Jennie Boardman, daughter of Warren and Helen Boardman, was born in Tompkins, Jackson county, Mich., Jebruary 21, 1861. She came to Eaton Rapids about 11 years ago to live with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Montgomery, where she made her home till her death. After receiving her education here she was engaged as teacher and had commenced the fall term of her third year when taken sick. Jor several weeks she insisted on attending to her duties when she was scarcely able to walk to the school house, until finally she took a slight cold, which brought on the fatal disease.

The funeral was held at the Congregational church, last Sunday at 2 o'clock, and before that hour the church was crowded with people who came to pay their last tribute of respect to her memory. Shortly after the hour the organist played a dirge and the three clergymen- Rev. D.P. Breed, A.R. Boggs and J.R. Stevenson - came up the center aisle, followed by the pall bearers, H.S. Maynard, W.G. Bryant, A.D. Gallery, Rufus Hyde, Geo. Walworth and Jas. B. Bradley, bearing the remains. After a scriptural reading by Rev. D.P. Breed, Rev. A.R. Boggs offered a very earnest prayer. Rev. J.R. Stevenson preached the sermon, taking his text from 1 Peter, 4;7. The music by the choir was very impressive, and throughout the whole it was the most solemn funeral we ever attended, scarcely any one being in the church who did not shed a tear.

Miss Boardman was known by nearly every one in this city, and we doubt if she had one enemy among the whole number of her acquaintances. She was always cheerful and pleasant and had a faculty of making friends and holding their friendship. She was always a lady wherever she appeared.

The floral offerings at the funeral were beautiful. On the white casket lay two wreaths, and standing near the pulpit was an arch of flowers with the words "Thy work is done," woven with immortelles. On the rostrum was an anchor, also a pillow and a cross, worked with calla lilies and beautiful roses, all being the gifts of her many friends and teachers. After the funeral services the remains were taken to the cemetery in this city for interment.

Mrs. Boardman, and her children, desire to express their thanks to the many friends who so generously assisted them in their sad affliction, and particulary to Miss Nettle Hosler, who faithfully attended Jennie for four weeks, never missing a day that she was not at her bedside.

The tenth Commencement of the high school of this place was held at Ked Kibbon hall on Jri evening. The exercises were commenced with music by the Ladies' Band, followed by prayer by Kev. J. Heritage. Then a "Greeting Song" by Nettie Hosler, Maria Myers, W.J. Stirling and A.D. Gallery. Prof. Briggs then commenced introducing the class, the first being Miss Addie Miller with an essay on "Jootprints on the Sands of Time," followed by an oration by John D. Birney, "The Purchase of Louisiana." Young Birney made a noble effort, convincing the audience that he had been attending school for a purpose. An essay by Maud Grinnell "Beyond the Alps Lieth Thing Jtaly." An oration by Edwin B. Cadwell "The Birth of Our Nation." Miss Louise M. Briggs had an essay on "Kuins," and an oration by Lewis W. Leisenring "Class of '85" was well defined. Lettie Giddings had an essay on "Graduatim." Jrvin S. Canfield delivered an oration on "Napoleon Bonaparte." Miss Minnie Kouse an essay on "Jt Might Have Been." Last but not least, Madelon B. Perrine was introduced with the class "Valedictory." After a solo by Miss Lizzie Gould, School Director H.S. Maynard presented diplomas to each member of the class. The meeting was then dismissed with a benediction by Kev. H.H. VanAuken.

Editor's Page.....

A sad day has dawned on my life. I have made the difficult decision to resign as editor of the "Eaton County Quest" quarterly. I have been editor since the conception of the "Quest" four years ago and have truly enjoyed every minute. Unfortunately, my daily schedule has taken a chaotic twist (you can probably ALL relate to that statement) and I feel it would be better to place the project in the hands of someone who has more time to devote to its page.

I am still a member of the society and will remain as the room's librarian. I hope to be able to contribute time and material to the future "Quest" issues as time allows me.

May I take this opportunity to thank all of you who supported my efforts with the quarterly. I appreciate each and every positive word I have received over the last four years.

I think we can all look forward to an exciting year as a new editor takes over and gives the magazine a fresh new look and approach.

Sincerely,

Joyce Lieping
