McKENNY---- At his home in Dimondale, on Tuesday, June 7, 1892, of ulceration of the bowels, Albert McKenny, aged 72 years, 8 months and 19 days. Mr. McKenny was a pioneer of the county. His wife and eight children survive him. Prof. Estabrook, of Olivet, conducted the funeral services which were held Wednesday. The remains were interred at Lansing.

EDDY ---- At her home in Eaton, on Sunday at 4 o'clock p.m., of asthma of the heart. Mrs. Harriet Jane Eddy, wife of Dennis Eddy, aged 58 years. Mrs. Eddy was one of the pioneers of the county, a woman of progressive ideas, an ideal wife and mother. Her loss will be felt throughout the county. The funeral will take place this afternoon at one o'clock at the residence, Rev. McAlpine officiating.

WILLIAMS ---- At his home in Brookfield on Tuesday, April 25, 1893, of general debility, Peter Williams, aged 79 years, 7 months and 5 days. Mr. Williams was born in New York and settled in Michigan about 55 years ago. He had been a resident of Brookfield for about a half a century and had held about all the town offices from supervisor down. He was a firm believer in Spiritualism and was an advocate of many reform measures. He was one of the growing class of people who tie to no party or creed only so long as it appears to represent his ideal.

SHRINER ----At his cottage in Bay View, on Monday, August 15, 1892 at 4 o'clock p.m., of heart disease, Robert Ward Shriner, aged 49 years, 4 months.

A telegram was sent to Mrs. Addie C. Morey yesterday announcing his sad event. Mr. Shriner has been slowly failing for a number of months, an attack of la grippe in the latter part of winter being the pre-disposing cause of his decline in health, which baffled the best medical skill. For a number of weeks before his removal to Bay View he looked anxiously forward to going there and so tenderly was he cared for in making the journey, that, weak though he was, he apparently suffered no unfavorable effect from the change. The kindness of his friends here and in Bay View and of the railroad officials on both the Michigan Central and the Grand Rapids & Indiana railroads, in providing every possible convenience and comfort for him, touched him very deeply and the last time he talked with the writer he said with a great deal of emotion that he would be glad to express through the Tribune his deep appreciation of all this kindness. One of the most touching characteristics of his illness was his intense appreciation of all the acts of thoughtfulness or tenderness which were accorded him by his friends.

Mr. Shriner was born in Woodland, Barry county, April 14, 1843, his father being one of the first four white inhabitants of Woodland township. Upon the breaking out the war of the rebellion Mr. Shriner, then but 18 years of age, enlisted under the first call for three months men. From January 1862 to June 1863 he served in Berdan's famous U.S.S.S., being discharged there from for rheumatism contracted in the army. It was during his army service that he laid the foundation of the disease which has resulted in his death.

Mr. Shriner was honored with numerous positions of public trust while a resident of Woodland. In 1873 he came to Charlotte, clerking successively in the law offices of J.W. Nichols, P.T. Van Zile and E.A. Foote. While with Judge Van Zile he had an excellent opportunity to lost himself upon probate law. Upon being admitted as an attorney he became a member of the firm of Foote & Shriner, later of the firm of Huggett & Shriner and for the past five years he has been associated with Mr. Garry C. Fox under the firm name of Shriner & Fox. He has been city recorder of Charlotte two years, alderman of the third ward two years, alderman of the third ward two years, prosecuting attorney of Eaton county four years, United States commissioner of the western district of Michigan for eight years and supervisor of this city one year.

Mr. Shriner was married in 1869 to Miss Martha A. Fry, of Leslie, who with their adopted daughter, Miss Mae Shriner, survive him. In his death not only his family but the community sustain a loss which will be deeply felt, for Robert Shriner was man of many noble qualities and he had a large number of warm friends. The remains and the funeral, which will be in charge of the Knights Templar, is announced for 2 o'clock tomorrow, although a change of hour may be made.

VOSBURG ---- At her home in Brookfield, of nervous prostration, on Monday, September 19, 1892, Mrs. Sarah Frances Vosburg, aged 47 years.

Mrs. Vosburg was a daughter of Michael Bachus, of Carmel. She had been a resident of Michigan twenty-nine years. She leaves a husband and a son by whom she will ever be remembered as a most faithful and devoted wife and mother. The funeral was held yesterday at the town line church, Rev. Frank McApline officiating.

FREEMAN ---- At her home in Eaton, on Saturday, September 17, 1892, Mrs. Chauncey Freeman, aged 74 years.

Mrs. Freeman was married exactly fifty-three years, to an hour, before and had lived in Eaton county for thirty years. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. George D. Lee, on Monday, music being furnished by the Universalist choir.

UMBARGER ----At her home in Brookfield, on Sunday, December 11, 1892, after a long illness, Mrs. Martha Umbarger, wife of James Umbarger, aged 57 years. The funeral was held yesterday at 10 o'clock a.m. and the remains were taken to Eaton Rapids for interment. Mrs. Umbarger was an especially kind neighbor, loving wife and mother. She leaves a husband and seven children.

McUMBER ----At his home on Shaw street, on Monday evening, June 20, 1892 of paralysis, John E. McUmber, aged 63 years. The funeral will be held at the residence at 2 o'clock this afternoon, Rev. D. H. Mowers officiating. Mr. McUmber leaves a wife and two married sons.

HARVEY ---- At the home of her sister, Mrs. G.T. Rand, in this city, on Tuesday evening, June 14, 1892, of erysipelas followed by paralysis. Miss Kate Harvey, after an illness of several weeks.

A short funeral service was held from the Rand residence on Thursday evening, Revs. E.G. Lewis and H.S. Roblee officiating, after which the remains were taken on the 9 o'clock train to New York for interment, accompanied by Mrs. G.T. Rand, and H.H. Hamilton, of Eaton Rapids. In October of '89 the Tribune published an account of the public work of Miss Harvey which will be read at this time with new interest:

"A year or two ago our attention was called to the fact that there lived in this city a woman who, as a war heroine, deserved to be ranked with Clara Barton and Mary A. Livermore. One afternoon a few weeks ago, this information was verified by a long and interesting interview with the lady in question --- Miss Kate Harvey -- whose home has been with her sister Mrs. G. T. Rand, a large part of the time for four or five years.

When the war opened, her father went into the army as chaplain. Of course patriotism was high in every loyal heart, and Miss Harvey longed to lend active aid to her country in peril. Her home was in New York Mills, where she was engaged in teaching. When Fort Sumpter was attacked, she closed school and offered her assistance, going to New York City where she worked in Bellevue and the City hospitals until November 1861, when she went to Beaufort, South Carolina, under the auspices of the Freedman's Aid Society, dividing her time between a colored mission school of 170 pupils, in which she had two assistants and caring for sick and wounded soldiers. After four or five months, she was obliged to give her whole time as nurse, and here at Beaufort she acted in this capacity until the war closed, passing through experiences which would make an interesting and pathetic volume, could they be written. Mrs. Browning says that it is good for strength to know that others need us to be strong, and it was this need of strength to do for others that made this young woman equal to the terrible scenes and trials through which she had constantly to pass. Her experiences in the hospital ship, off the island, where she went day after day, the only woman on board, were such as only a tender loving woman, consecrated to duty, could have performed. "Go and God go with you," were the words of the surgeon whom she consulted about going to this desolate place where duty called so strong, and where she was received as an angel of mercy, for none could do as a woman could for those destitute suffering men. Again and again it was her duty to send the dying man's message to anxious friends at home and many mementoes, from soldiers and soldiers' friends, to her, tell of the place she held in their hearts. We were shown a heavy gold ring inscribed, "In Memoriam, August 1, '63 Beaufort." from the friends of a soldier named Leggett, whom she cared for to recovery.

Miss Harvey introduced a new feature into the convalescing hospital where she was engaged in the fall of '64. The principal diversion of the men had been card playing, as the majority could not read or write. It occurred to her to teach them. The idea was hailed with joy, and interest and persistence shown by these men in mastering the rudiments of reading, writing, and numbers, though pathetic, was an insipiration to their teacher, and a noble work she did, continuing her school, except in the intervals of an unusual amount of hospital work, till the war was over. She has often since met those whom she cared for in hospital, and occasionally she meets one who tells me she taught him how to read and write. This happened some time ago, in Eaton Rapids, when Nat Davis, a colored barber, recognized her as his hospital teacher.

Miss Harvey's description of Sherman and his men, when, in their famous march to the sea, they came into Beaufort, was very interesting. A more battered and forlorn spectable was never seen -- pants fringed half way to the body and correspondingly tattered coats -- yet the men declared they would not exchange their rags for the costliest broadcloth. Our heroine accompanied the party that went to Charleston on that day, just four years after the attack of Fort Sumpter, when General Anderson again raised the flag over the ruined fort, that day appointed for thanksgiving, which was turned into mourning by the assassination of one of the truest men ever called to public duty. In November '65 Miss Harvey went to Washington, where she acted as assistant in the Internal Revenue office until 1872, when she returned to New York Mills to care for her parents in their last days. Her work through the war was a work of loyalty and devotion solely. No money compensation was ever asked or received.

SPRINKLE ---- At the home in Carmel, February 26, 1893, after a long and painful sickness, Mrs. Amos Sprinkle, aged 48 years.

The funeral takes place from the residence today (Wednesday) Rev. B. H. Mowers, of Charlotte, assisted by Rev. Snell officiating. Mrs. Sprinkle was a faithful and loving wife. She was a member of the M.P. church and was a faithful and devoted christian. She leaves a husband and son to mourn their loss.

PROCTOR --- At Harbor Springs, Mich., on Tuesday, September 20, 1892. William Proctor of this city, aged about 50 years. The remains were brought to this city for interment, the funeral, conducted by Rev. C.D. Jarvis, occurring Thursday.

HARTEL ----At his home near Potterville, of disease of the heart, Wednesday, September 21, 1892, Henry Hartel, aged 70 years. ROUNDS -----At the home of her daughter, Mrs. Vickery, in Eaton township, on Saturday, September 24, 1892, Mrs. Matilda Rounds, aged 84 years.

The funeral took place on Monday at 10 o'clock, Rev. Frank McAlpine officiating. The remains were taken to Potterville for interment.

FIELDS ----- At his home in Chester, on September 22, 1892, Horace B. Field, aged 68 years.

Mr. Field was an old and highly esteemed citizen of the county. His funeral was held at Gresham last Sunday.

SEARS ----- At the home of her son, Warren Sears, of Kalamo, on Monday, March 20, 1893, of Lung trouble, Mrs. Mary Sears, wife of Peter Sears, aged 70 years. Her husband is at the point of death. The funeral will be held today at 10 o'clock from the residence.

LAMB ----- At the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Peter Klock, North Washington St., on May 25, 1893, Mrs. Jane Lamb, aged 84 years.

BAIRD ----- At his home on N. Sheldon street on Tuesday morning, June 6, 1893, James Baird, in the 86th year of his age. Mr. Baird was born in New York from which state he removed to Michigan in 1853 settling three miles west of this city, in Carmel. He laid the foundation for a substantial competence by labor at teaming from points on the M.C.R.R. to Charlotte, and afterwards conducted stage lines from this city to Jackson and Marshal. In 1863 he purchased A.S. Robert's hotel, since known as the Baird House, which he conducted for many vears. Mr. Baird was an excellent citizen, as good a friend as the poor had in the city, and carried a large part of his piety in his pocketbook, which was open for most good causes. Some of our best citizens got their financial backing for a start in life from James Baird and none can fail to admire his many good qualities. He leaves two sons, Edwin Baird, of Wyoming, and James J, Baird, of Lansing. The latter is in the city. The funeral will be held today at two o'clock from the residence, Rev. H.S. Roblee officiating.

Bellevue Twp.

By Mary Jean Baker

Which came first ? It seems that Bellevue was originally selected to be the county seat of Eaton.

As Charlotte was on a beautiful flowering prairie; so too Bellevue merited its name when it was an Indian village and long before white men came.

J. T. Hayt was the first postmaster in Bellevue and described it as "The burr-oak plain". He thought it was the most beutiful spot he had ever seen. He arrived in 1834 before the white man had marred its beauty. Wild grass was about a foot high and interspersed with the most beautiful flowers he had ever beheld. He decided then and there to erect a dwelling.

There was some kind of white man habitation as early as 1829, but no one owned any land and didn't stay around long.

The first actual and permanent settler in Bellevue Township, or in Eaton County, was Capt. Reuben Fitzgerald, in July 1833. Pioneers had to adapt themselves and their houses to the available material. Shelters were built from flagstones and covered by buffalo hides and other available material. Walls were built of adobe or dried mud. Inside were poles over which a few inches of earth was thrown. It helped from the blistering sun and biting winds but was inadequate if rains were copious.

Because of the abundants of densely crowed forest where the trunks of trees were often sixty feet high, houses and barns were soon built of wood.

Capt. Fitzgerald brought his wife and three children, with two yoke of oxen drawing his one wagon and all his earthly possessions. He upturned the wagon box for a shelter which became his first temporary home.

The Captain had but little money to buy material but his friend Hunsiker, back east planned to come soon, so advanced money whereby Capt. Fitzgerald could buy some supplies in Marshall. On November 12, 1834, Mrs. Fitzgerald gave birth to a daughter, Sarah A., the first white child born in Eaton County and on February 13, 1837, she gave birth to a son, Edwin. Sixteen days later, Mrs. Fitzgerald died as did many others, to the hardships of pioneer life.

By 1835 four families had lived there long enough to en-title them to vote. They were: Reuben Fitzgerald, Sylvanus Hunsiker, Calvin Phelps and James Kimberly. They made John T. Hayt clerk and orderd Calvin Phelps to proclaim the polls open. He proclaimed, "The poll of this election is now open. I warn all men, under penalty of the law, to keep the peace." The four electors elected each other to all the best offices and gave leaner ones to the later comers.

Other points of interest: The first sermon in Eaton County was delivered by Rev. John D. Pierce of Marshall, a Presbyterian minister.

In 1834, Rev. Davison organized the first Methodist class, consisting of five members, J. Kimberly, leader.

By 1835, the following were in Bellevue: R. Fitzgerald, S. Hunsiker, D. Mason, Calvin Phelps, Asa Phelps, L. Campbell, John Hayt, J. Kimblerly and J. Hutchinson all with their wives. The single men were B. Bader, J. B. Crary, W. Streeter, N. F. Blossom, R. Slatel and J. Tripp.

By 1835 there also was a saw mill, a log cabin for school, and meeting-house, and mail service. The first post office in 1835 was spelled Bellvue. It was renamed Bellevue on January 8, 1841, and incorporated as a village in 1867.

Bellevue township comprised the entire county until March 11, 1837, when Vermontville was set off to comprise the northwest quarter of the county and Eaton the southeast quarter. The following year Oneida was organized to include the northeast quarter.

Bellevue is known as having inexhaustible beds of superior lime stone. (See Quest #50)

News Notice:

From:"Historydocs" <historydocs@whs.wisc.edu> Subject: Wisconsin Name Index

Dear Colleagues,

Last winter the Wisconsin Historical Society announced the creation of the Wisconsin Name Index, an online database leading to over 100,000 obituaries, biographical sketches and newspaper articles, all about Wisconsin ancestors. The name index was a huge success, allowing researchers to look up ancestors in more than 1,500 books and periodicals found in libraries or to order paper copies directly from us. However, there was one resounding comment * add more content.

Over the past year, The Wisconsin Historical Society has done just that. We have added over 60.000 entries from a variety of sources. Some sources focused on local county histories, with biographical sketches; others were professional histories, many highlighting the women of Wisconsin, while still others centered on Wisconsin's military history.

I would like to invite you to visit our website at www.wisconsinhistory.org/wni to learn more about our resource. We have received many emails from users expressing their pleasure and excitement about the Wisconsin Name Index. One customer wrote, "I would like to let you know that your hard work is a big help for those who are researching their family history". We are so glad to be able to help researchers from across the country and hope that you will share the Wisconsin Name Index and our other genealogical services with your members and other family historians.

Pleas feel free to share the content of this letter or our website (www.wisconsinhistory.org) in your newsletter or website/ We would love it if you would add us to your links page if we are not already there. If you have any questions about the Wisconsin Genealogical Research Service offers, send me an email with your question. I would love to hear from you.

Best Wishes,

Jacob Hartom, In whose removal from the scenes of earth Barry County lost an estimable citizen, passed away May 4, 1886. For nearly forty years he had been engaged in farming in Assyria Township and during that period he had changed a large tract of land from a forest to a fine farm, where a large handsome residence, ample barns, granaries, etc., and good windmill testify to the success that rewarded his efforts and belief of the family in home comfort and convenience.

Mr. Hartom was born in Otsego County. N.Y., January 29, 1819, and was the second in a family of thirteen children. His grandfather, Jacob Hartom, was born in Germany and came to America when seventeen years old, being the only member of the family who emigrated. He located to New York and in Allegany County his son Robert, father of our subject, was born. That gentleman came to Washtenaw County, Mich., in the fall of 1834 and six years later removed to Assyria Township, Barry County, making his first home here on section 25. In the spring of 1847 he located on section 15, buying an eighty-acre tract which he improved and tilled until his death in 1869. His wife was Elizabeth Russell, who was born in New York, and whose father, William Russell, was one of the earliest settlers in Washtenaw County, this State, and died there. Mrs. Hartom died at the home of her son, our subject, in December, 1884. Both she and her husband belonged to the Methodist Episcopal Church.

In his native State Jacob Hartom grew to the age of fifteen years and then accompanied his parents to the West. In Washtenaw County he worked at farming and blacksmithing, spending a part of his time there even after his father removed to Barry County. In 1847 he and his brother William bought one hundred and sixty acres of land, making payments theron from time to time, and when the last had been made, dissolving partnership. Our subject located on the land and in later years added to it until the estate amounted to some two hundred and eighteen acres on section 15, and forty on section 23, which is now operated by his widow and youngest son. He held various township offices and was a prominent and respected citizen. Politically he was a Democrat. He was a Class-Leader and influential member of the Protestant Methodist Church at Assvria.

Mr. Hartom was married September 9, 1844, in Washtenaw County, to Miss Miranda Robinson, who was born in the Empire State. Of this union there were born two sons -- Wallace, now a conductor on the street railway at Saginaw, and George, a traveling salesman, who makes his home in Battle Creek. In the city of Marshall, August 22, 1860, the second matrimonial alliance of Mr. Hartom was contracted. His bride on this occasion was Miss Elizabeth Paddock, a lady of much intelligence and refined tastes, who born him two children-- Martha and Milton. The daughter is now the wife of Melvin Tuckerman, the proprietor of a meat-market in Battle creek, and the son is on the home farm.

In the paternal line Mrs. Elizabeth Hartom is of German lineage. Her grandfather, Nicholas Paddock, removed from Jefferson County, N.Y., to this State many years ago and died in Calhoun County. His occupation was farming and he was a volunteer in the War of 1812. John L. Paddock, father of Mrs. Hartom, was born in New York, April 21, 1804, and followed his father's example in chosing a vocation. In the spring of 1834 he came to this State, traveling with a team from Detroit to Calhoun County and buying property in the northern part of Pennfield Township. He built a log house on the eighty acres of wild land, and moved into the building when it had neither doors nor windows and a blanket was hung in the doorway to break the wind and scare away wolves. Having no means Mr. Paddock cut and split rails to pay for the land, on which he finally placed many conveniences. He was a radical Republican in his political beliefs and held township offices, such as Treasurer, Highway Commissioner and Justice of the Peace; he died August 11, 1881. The mother of Mrs. Hartom was born in Jefferson County, N.Y., May 12, 1810, and bore the maiden name of Mary M. Benedict. Her father, Stephen Benedict, who was a farmer, spent his last days in Wisconsin, and died at the home of a grand-daughter in Kenosha in 1864. They were of English descent. Mrs. Paddock died in 1843, strong in the faith of the Presbyterian Church. Her daughter Elizabeth was thus left motherless at an early age, she having been born November 2, 1835, in Emment Township, Calhoun County. She was reared in Pennfield Township, where she attended school in the rude log house which was the best the country afforded at that time. She made good use of such opportunities as she had, and when eighteen years old taught a term, saving her wages to pay tutition at Olivet Institute the ensuing fall and winter. She made her home in a family where she worked for her board, and thus increased her store of learning and at the same time cultivated self-reliance. After concluding her studies she taught seven terms, six of them in the township that is now her home, but continued to make her abode with her father until her marriage.

Mrs. Hartom, as one of the oldest settlers in her vicinty, has a large circle of acquaintances, among whom her reputation is firmly established as that of one who has done well in the various walks of life. She is a member of the Protestant Methodist Church in Assyria, and belongs to the Independent Order of Good Templars, for which she has been Lodge Deputy. She is in sympathy with the Prohibition party and does what she can to hasten the wheels of progress in the temperance cause and other good works.

Clarissa Knapen. This work would fail in its idea of placing before its readers and patrons in Barry County the life history of its noted men and women, were we to omit the name of Mrs. Clarissa Knapen, who is so well and favorably known in the county. Her history will be of more than ordinary interest to the people of Barry County, where she was reared, from the reason that she came to this county many years ago and has both watched and aided in its growth and development to its present condition of wealth and beauty.

Mrs. Knapen is the wife of Herman I. Kapen, a native of the Green Mountain State who opened his eyes to the light December 24, 1817. He in his early days was engaged in the mercantile business, but thinking the West afforded better opportunities for his work he moved with his parents and settled in Kalamazoo County, Mich. And was engaged in farming. He shortly afterward removed to this county and kept an hotel at Hastings. He was united in marriage with our subject July 24, 1843. Becoming dissatisfied with hotel keeping he engaged for a short time in the mercantile business which he afterward sold. He filled the position of Postmaster of Hastings for some time. In politics he adhered to the democracy. He was a man of wealth, owning land in the county and a home in the city, besides other property. He died September 11, 1854, leaving behind him the record of a successful and honorable career and a memory and name worth the respect and reverence of his posterity.

Our subject is a daughter of Joseph and Abigail (Bunnell) Hotchkiss, natives of the State of Connecticut. In this family there were eleven children, of whom our subject is the youngest in order of birth save one. Mrs. Knapen is the only one of that large family left, her sister next in order of birth, Mrs. Abraham Kirk, of Oneida County, N.Y., having died March 29, 1891. The father of Mrs. Knapen came West and settled in Marshall, Calhoun County, this State, where he purchased land and remained until his death. The mother died in Onondaga County, N.Y. Mrs. Knapen by a former marriage to Alvin Bailey became the mother of one son, Henry H., who resides at Hastings. He owns a farm of forty acres within the city limits. He is by trade a printer, employed in the Banner office at Hastings.

Mrs. Knapen is one of the Puritan mothers of Hastings, working in all prominent movements that will further its advancement. She is an active worker in the missionary cause and an ardent advocate of temperance, being a member of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union and the Lodge of Good Templars. She is also enrolled with the Daughters of Rebecca. She is a consistent and faithful member of the Presbyterian Church, with which she has been connected for fifty years. During the busy days of her eventful life she has never stepped aside from duty no matter how hard the task. Benevolent and charitable, she gives to the poor and needy, and by her kindness has won a large circle of friends. She is one of whom it may be said, "to love is a liberal education."

The Past and Present of Eaton County, Michigan

Personal and Genealogical (As written-- plublished about 1915 ?)

Ephriam H. Bailey, of Charlotte, has been a resident of this city for more than forty-five years and is one of the representative citizens and business men of the county. He is the owner of a well appointed music store, giving his personal supervision to the same, and he has been long and prominently identified with musical affairs is this section and is known as a cultured and appreciative musician. Mr. Bailey was born in Yorkshire, England, March 4, 1832, and is a son of James and Sovinah (Pitchforth) Bailey, both of whom were likewise born in England, where they continued to reside until 1842, when they came to America, and forthwith located in Eaton county, Michigan, becoming pioneers of wild land, near the present village of Chester, but he finally sold this property and took up his residence in Battle Creek, Calhoun county, where he engaged in teaching music, also in the silk business, having been a silk-weaver by trade. He eventually returned to Eaton county, and he was one of the pioneer music teachers in this section of the state, where his services were much in demand, and where he gained a high degree of popularity. He died in 1887 and his wife passed a way in 1881. Both were members of the established church of England prior to coming to America, and here they naturally became communicants of the American branch, the Protestant Episcopal While a resident of Yorkshire, church. England, he had charge of the music in one of the old and historic parish churches. James and Sovinah Bailey became the parents of nine children, of whom five are living. The name of the children are her entered in the order of birth: Jessie, Ephriam H., Manasseh, Miriam, Cyrus, Asenath, Mary, Joseph and James, Ephraim H. Bailey, the immediate subject of this review, received his early educational discipline in England, having been ten years of age at the time of the family removal to America. Here he continued his academic studies as opportunity afforded, while he received exceptional advantages in the way of prosecuting his musical studies, his training having early been initiated under the direction of his able father. He attended muscial conservatories in both New York and Boston, under such well known instructors as Drs. Lowell Mason, George J. Webb and George F. Root. He was engaged in teaching music in the states of Indiana and Michigan from 1855 to 1860, in which latter year he located in Charlotte, Michigan, having come hither principally for the purpose of studying languages under the tutorship of Professor O.S. Ingham. In 1860 he took up his permanent residence in Charlotte, and here he has been engaged in his present line of business since 1860. His name is a familiar one throughout this section of the state and he has a wide circle of loyal friends. He owns the business block which he utilizes as his headquarters and also the owner of other valuable property in Charlotte. He is a Republican in his political proclivities, and he is identified with the Swedenborgian church in the city of Detroit. He is affiliated wih the Independent Order fo Good Templars. September 10, 1859, Mr. Bailey was united in marriage to Miss Lucy Ann Jones, whose father was one of the pioneers of this section of the Wolverine state. They have no children. Mr. Bailey was actively engaged in teaching music for a period of twenty years, and still consents to give instruction to a few select puplis, while he has written many excellent musical scores, both vocal and instrumental, finding much satisfaction in such composition. He is now alone in his business, in which he was formerly associated with his brother, under the firm title of E.H. & J.A. Bailey.

Mores H. Bailey, is a citizen known to practically every resident of Eaton county, where he has maintained his home for sixty-six years, being a representative of one of the early pioneer families of the state and having been prominent as a surveyor, both for the government and in a private way, in this section of the commonwealth for many years, while he now resides on his fine farm property in Windsor township, where he has made his home since 1851. He and his estimable wife put forth and place on challenge the claim to being the oldest married couple in the state who were both born and married within its confines. Mr. Bailey was born in Troy township, Oakland county, Michigan, August 7, 1834, about three years before the state was admitted to the Union. He is a son of Benjamin F. and Marcia M. (Huntington) Bailey, the former of whom was born in Niagara county, New York, and latter in the state of Vermont. They were residents of New York state until 1829, when they came to Michigan, numbering themselves among the very early settlers of Oakland county, where they remained about a decade, having removed to Eaton county in 1839. Here the father took up two hundred and ninety acres of government land in Windsor and Benton townships, reclaiming about eighty acres of the tract, which was a dense forest and finally taking up his residence in Eaton Rapids, where he lived for a long term of years and where his wife died. He passed the closing days of his life in Lonoke, Arkansas. He is well remembered by the older pioneer citizens of Eaton county, having been a citizen of prominence and sterling worth. He is survived by his three sons, all of whom were born and reared in Eaton county, the subject of this review having been the first in order of birth. Dr. William H. is engaged in the practice of medicine in the city of Detroit, Michigan, and Benjamin F., likewise a physician and surgeon, resides in Keoka, Iowa. Both were technically educated in a medical college in the city of Cleveland, Ohio. Mores H. Bailey was about five years of age at the time of his parents' removal to Eaton county, and he well recalls the scenes and incidents of the pioneer days on the embryonic forest farm, where deer, bear, wolves and other beasts of the wilds were much in evidence, as were also the Indians. He was afforded the advantages of such schools as were established in the semi-wilderness and later was enabled to amplify this discipline under higher instructions, having gained a thorough and practical knowledge of the profession of surveying and civil engineering so far as the same was brought into requisition in the earlier days. He did much and careful work in connection with the completion of government surveys in this section of the state, and has followed his profession as a vocation during the greater part of his active career, though he has incidentally reclaimed his fine farm, of eighty acres, in Windsor township, where he took up his abode in 1851, a few years prior to his marriage. At the time when he located on the property it was covered with the native timber and settlers were few and far removed from each other. He has erected good buildings on the homestead and the same is one of the valuable farms of the county, its operation being still conducted under his direct supervision, though he has to a large degree retired from active labor. In politics Mr. Bailey has ever been found arrayed as a stanch supporter of the principles and policies of the Democratic party, in whose local councils he has been a valued factor, while he has ever shown a deep interest in all that has tended to conserve the material, moral and social advancement and prosperity of the county in which he has so long lived and labored. The family are supporters of the Presbyterian church of Dimondale, of which Mrs, Bailey is a member. In 1857 Mr. Bailey was united in marriage to Miss Charlotte Towsley, daughter of Orange Towsley, who was one of the first settlers in Windsor township, where he took up his residence August 8, 1837, having had to cut his way through the forest for a distance of thirteen miles in order to reach his land and then having to fell trees in order to make a clearing adequate to accommodate the tent which was his first domicile. Mr. and Mrs. Bailey became the parents of five chilxdren, all of whom are living except the first, Millie, who died at the age of three years. William resides in Dimondale, this county; Bell E. resides in the state of Oregon; L.T. remains at the parental home and has the management of the farm; Hiram resides in Dimondale. All of the children were born and reared in Eaton county, where the family has been one of prominence from the earliest pioneer days to the present.

Letters From Our Volunteers The Republican Newspaper Dated July 18, 1862

St. Louis, July 11, 1862

Friend Saunders: ----- Once more in the field of action, I take the liberty, by the request of many of your readers, to renew an old correspondence. I left your beautiful, quiet village last Tuesday morning, and arrived in this city the Wednesday evening following ---- being only 22 hours on the road from Battle Creek. Hence you see it is but a short journey from Charlotte to St. Louis. All is quiet in the city. I reported myself to Lieut. Fish of the Schofield Barracks, and was immediately detailed for duty, as Sergeant of the Guard. I thought that rather brash for a new beginning. Paroled and soldiers that have been home on sick furlough are reporting themselves at these Barracks for their regiments at the rate of from 150 to 200 daily. Hence, from these figures, you may readily draw your own conclusion of the great amount of sickness that prevailed in the army of the West and South, and the great necessity of the President's call for 300,000 more men to fill up the places of the sick, wounded, and those that are being discharged. I hope the answer to the President's call will be promptly responded to --- for I want to see the end of this great I noticed in the "Missouri rebellion. Democrat" of yesterday that the Bushwackers are raising near Macon, Jackson Co. in this State, and have gone at their old trade of robbing and driving out Union people from that section. They are about 600 strong ---- said to be --- and are committing all manner of depredations upon the peaceful citizens. They need the mild influence of the Kansas 5th, to check their operations. Between 250 and 300 of the "State Militia" were arrested at Rolla, and brought down on the cars yesterday under the escort of a strong guard, for refusing to go out of the State ----- neither would they lay down their arms. They were sent up to Hannibal. Considerable anxiety is expressed for the relief of Gen. Curtis. When last heard from, he was making his way towards the Mississippi, and had been living on half rations for the last three weeks. The only news I can learn of my Regiment is, that they left Rolla about three weeks ago for Gen. Curtiss. A large train leaves Ironton to-morrow for his relief, with a large force of 1500 as escort. I think I shall be sent with them in search of my Regiment. I find no news of importance in this morning's paper to write you -- hence I will close.

Fayette, Mo., Sunday, July 6th, 1862

The Fourth passed off very agreeably here to us all, and I suppose you would like to know something about the order of proceedings. In the first place I would say for the beneift of those who have never visited Missouri, that the Fourth happened here the same time of year that it usually does in Michigan. The day was a pleasant as it could be, but very hot. A salute of thirteen rounds was fired at sunrise by the whole battalion.

About nine A. M. we mounted and marched to the Court House; we formed in parade while the National flag was run up on the steeple. Capt. Mason then made a few remarks in which he reminded us that when we left our homes we gave three cheers for the flag we were defending. They were given, and in a style that showed the spirit of the boys who gave them.

In the afternoon we listened to the Declaration of Independence, and two or three short but good Union speeches by citizens of the place. They come right to the point. After that a picnic dinner was served up to all, and particularly for the benefit of the soldiers. I will say that it was the best picnic dinner that I ever attended in my life. It did credit to the loyal citizens here, and showed that the Union sentiment was rapidly rising, and that those who had been loyal to the Union were not afraid to come out and help those who are fighting to defend it.

The table was loaded with everything that heart could wish, and enough left to feed another just such a crowd.

The whole wound up with all the ice cream that we could possibly eat.

Some, perhaps, of a more poetical turn of mind that myself, would say that the table groaned under its weight; but I am not a believer in spiritualism, and I do not believe that the table performed any such feat, or, if it did, I did not hear it. But I may say that some of the boys groaned under the weight of the good things they carried back to camp. At all events, I am certain that it will be a long time before the boys forget the Fourth of July that they spent in Fayette, let them be called where they will hereafter.

Autobiography of Howard A. Mikesell

Permission to publish given by Michael T. Wahl

I came into this world September 7, 1888 in the little town of Charlotte, Michigan. My wonderful parents Jacob A. and Vina S. Mikesell gave me all the loving care any child ever had. Kind and generous they were but strict in discipline and thanks to them I learned right and wrong at an early age.

Our home had a friendly warmth with never a cross word. Mother was not a strong person but she loved her home and was an excellent cook. Father's income was never large but in those days a modest income went a long ways and mother was a good manager.

The winter of 1894 was one I will long Wood was burned by remember. housewives for cooking. One winter day Mr. McClintock, a farmer, brought a load to our next door neighbor. After unloading he asked a group of us youngsters if we wished a ride. Of course we said "yes" and all climbed into the box of the bob-sled except me. Mother had said I should never go beyond the next corner so I knelt on the front bob. When we came to that corner I jumped off. I slipped and the runner of the rear bob went over my right leg near the hip. I was carried home and our family doctor, Dr. Warren Rand was called. He set the break and put the leg in a cast. He warned that it should not be moved as it was questionable if it could be saved. He said later if it had been an inch higher it could not have been saved. Days and weeks passed and when I could get around, father made me the finest pair of small crutches in America and I was the envy of all my friends.

* (Father's workbench and tools in the basement was used by both Robert and me through all our years at home and enabled us to learn how to make things in later years for our own homes.)

To Dr. Rand, a small town country doctor, long since gone, I owe the full and wonderful life I have enjoyed. I have been ever grateful for his ability and the care given me by my parents.

When I was 10 years old father told me I had a baby brother. He bundled me up on the cold November morning and took me to my grandfather Shepherd's home. Here I was cared for until things became more settled at our house at 409 West Lawrence Avenue. Robert was the addition to the family and a fine brother he is.

Our family life on holidays centered at our grandparents home, a big 3 story brick house with a cupola so common in those days. In the front and back parlors a long table would be set up for the family dinner. There the grandparents, the uncles, aunts and grandchildren would sit down to the turkey dinner. This was followed with games, taffy-pulls and pop-corn. In those days there were no movies, radio, television or automobiles. We had to make our own fun.

Sunday afternoons in the summer, Grandfather and Grandmother would drive to our house and mother, father and I would get in the back seat of the surrey. Grandfather would invariably drive the dusty road to the cemetery where we would stop and then drive home. Now and then the route would be changed but not often.

Sunday mornings in the summer, mother would give me a pail and I would ride my bicycle to Peter Mikesell's farm about two miles from home. Sarah Mikesell would raise the sloping basement doors outside the farm house and go down in the cellar. There around the basement room the milk pans laid on the broad ledge of packed dirt - a typical Michigan cellar. Then with a large spoon she would skim off the rich cream. She would fill my pail and I would ride back home. Mother had made a rich custard and this was mixed with the cream and all poured in the round can in the freezer. The ice was broken up and packed around the can and I would turn the crank till the ice cream was frozen. There is no ice cream today that can match Mother's rich custard ice cream.

Father, being of Pennsylvania Dutch descent, would each fall make a crock of sauer-kraut and it was my duty to tamp down the salted cabbage, after putting it through the cabbage slicer. I always remember Mother's excellent sauer-kraut dumplings. Father would also get a small keg of apple-cider each fall. As it fermented he would make the vinegar mother used in her cooking. Sometimes the cider turned fast in a warm fall and get rather hard. While we never took advantage of that, one fall some of my little friends tasted it and one was a son of our Congregational minister. He imbibed a little heavy before leaving for home and I wasn't very popular in the two households.

We had a barn in the rear of our home and with several of my friends we strung a wire from the hay door down to a tree. On this wire we hung a pulley and a rope with bar. We would then grab the bar and jump off into space and end up on the ground many feet away. We probably were the world's first Space Men, but father closed the operation as the supports in the barn began to give way.

The years flew by all too quickly. Robert had his little printing company and I had a local news column to write for the Jackson Patriot of Jackson, Mich. for which I received one cent a line. I also worked for the Charlotte Republican, the local weekly newspaper, gathering local news stories. Thanks to Boyden Moyer, who was the County Clerk, I was allowed to check the records of county pioneers and develop new stories which were of much interest to the readers. Mr. and Mrs. Boyden Moyer were a very popular Charlotte couple and their daughter, Gladys, married my brother Robert. At the bridal dinner in the Moyer home I assisted the happy couple in getting away from their friends by slipping out during the bridal dinner and removing the valve from one tire on each car. Robert always appreciated the help and it was very late that evening before all the cars could move as Luella and I just happened to drive by later.

Robert followed in the bond and investment business and became very successful.

Returning to high school days the two newspapers, as well as school kept me busy most of the time. We did have some canoe trips. I purchased with a friend, an Oldtown canoe and we travelled the Grand River to Grand Haven and the Kalamazoo River to the town of Saugatuck both on Lake Michigan. Another summer I was invited by two friends living in Ishpeming in Upper Michigan to accompany them on a fishing and hunting trip to the Upper Falls of the Escanaba River. I left Detroit on the Juniata, an Anchor Line Ship and two days latter arrived at Marquette where my friends met me. We left by wagon for the Upper Falls of the Escanaba River. There we set up camp for our two weeks stay. It was a new and wonderful experience for me.

One night while in High School I met two of my friends at the high school and since I was the lightest I was boosted thru the transom in the back door. I climbed the stairs to the belfry while my friends hid in the bushes at the side of the building. I tied a rope to the bell rope near the ceiling. Then droped this rope thru a small opening of a lowered upper sash. I then raised a lower first floor window slipped out and closed the window. We then rang the ball, while hiding in the bushes. We soon saw our janitor Peter Turo -- a lovable old gentlemen hastening to the building and watched his lantern on the way up to the belfry. We had stopped ringing the bell when he entered the building. We could find nothing wrong and returned home only a block away. We again rang the bell and once more he returned but the third time he discovered the second rope through the upper sash and our fun for the evening was over. Sometimes as I look back thru the years and consider some of our pranks I am not proud of them.

While in high school I met a young lady at a party and admired her very much. Her name was Luella Spaulding. The Junior Class party was near and I picked up enough courage to ask her to go with me. It was a pleasant surprise that she accepted and from then on I was a frequent visitor at 306 East Henry Street. Her family was well as mother's had been early settlers in this little community, and both had gone through the trials of pioneer life. My father's early years were spent in Nebraska and he was on the first survey for the Union Pacific through Nebraska.

Another Pioneer Gone Grand Ledge Loses a Good Citizen By Death of Samuel Chadwick.

Secretary of Masonic Lodge Thirty-six Years.

By the sudden death of Samuel Chadwick, which occurred at his home on East Jefferson St., Monday evening last, our city loses one of it oldest pioneers and a highly respected citizen. He was born in Monroe Co., N.Y., March 10, 1829, and had, therefore, nearly reached the end of his 74th vear.

The family moved to Delta, then known as Grand River City, in 1837. That town consisted of a saw mill and three log houses at that time. Mr. Chadwick came to Grand Ledge in 1849 and had lived here ever since. He had, therefore, seen this part of the Grand River valley develop from an almost unbroken wilderness to its present condition, and had survived almost every one who had lived here in his youth.

He held many offical positions, was a member of school board, of village council, township clerk, and held the office of justice of the peace no less than 24 years, in all of which positions he did his whole duty with concientious exactness.

He served in the Union Army in Co. D, 12 Michigan Infantry, in 1861 and 1862 but was discharged for disability in August 1862. He was a member of Earl Halbert Post, G.A.R., and was also a charter member of Grand Ledge Lodge, No 179 F. & A.M. and his death leaves but two surviving charter members, Marvin T. Streeter and George W. Thomas. Mr. Chadwick was secretary of his lodge from its inception to his death and was, undoubtedly, the only man in Michigan who had held that office so long a time. If he had a hobby it was Masonry and the memory of his unwavering devotion to that order is a monument to his lodge of no small value. For many years the Grand Lodge officers have refused to examine his books, his name alone being sufficent guaranty of their correctness.

He was a life-long republican.

He was married October 8, 1851, to Abigal Russell. Three children of this union now survive, Mrs. Emily L. Newcombe of Colville, Washington, Daniel O. Chadwick of Sherman, Michigan, and Mrs. J. D. Summers of this city. He married Nancy A. Betts, June 3, 1868, who with their son, Floyd B. Chadwick, survives him.

Funeral services were held at the home, yesterday, at 2 p.m., Rev S.E. Kelley officiating, and were largely attended.

It was a favorite saying of Francis E. Willard that we five by our ideals i.e., that every man, woman and child knowingly or unconsciously shapes his or her life and conduct by that of some other whom they admire, their hero, If this be true, who shall say where ends the influence of a life like that of Samuel Chadwick? None can say with certainty, but we do know that he was one of those who go their way quietly, doing the daily duties with kindness and courtesy to all, which compels the same with whom they meet. Such a life is itself a volume of eloquent and practical sermons, for example excels precept.

To his bereaved family we extend out heartiest sympathy. So long as manly character is appreciated this people will join with them in cherishing his memory.
