The Eaton County Quest welcomes manuscripts regarding Eaton County and written articles that would be of interest to our membership for proposed publication. The manuscript or article should be typed on standard-sized paper and have the author's name on each page and numbered. A cover letter, giving permission from the author to publish the material in the Quest, should accompany the material submitted. Restrictions of any kind may not be placed on material to be published.

When sending photocopies of original old manuscripts, such as handwritten Bible records, send a typed transcript from which we can work from. Writing is much clearer on the original in your possession than on a photocopy.

The Editor welcomes manuscripts on CD disks using Microsoft Word. Written articles may be submitted by email to: sbrownsf2@gmail.com
Please give permission for the article to be reprinted in the Quest.

Every effort is made to present authentic material; the Eaton County Genealogical Society cannot be held responsible for the accuracy or the publishing rights of the material furnished by contributors. All material is published with the permission of the contributor.

The Editorial staff will make the final decision on material to be published.

Due dates for material to be included in the next Quest are:

March 1st
July 1st
November 1st

A Note from our Librarian:

The Society is always in need of books, periodicals, photographs, personal articles that you have written on your family, or any genealogical research material you would like to find a good home.

Eaton County Rural One-Room School Project

Submitted by Sherry Copenhaver

The Eaton County Historical Commission is working on an Eaton County Rural One-Room School Project, with the goal of producing a book in the next few months. Several ECGS members have joined with the Commission to help. If you have photos of a rural school and/or class photos and are willing to share with the Project Committee, we would welcome any and all! If you know of any history of a school, or have any memories, we would love to share these memories. One of the puzzles we are working on is with Walton Township. Walton Township shows Fordham District 2 and Stine District 10. It shows the following schools and we do not know which districts they are: Bosworth, Bradley, Hockenberry, Mack and Scott schools. We have a Walton School District No. 7 and we do not know which school this is. Does anyone know?

What ECGS can do for You?

Submitted by Shirley Hodges

It is my belief that most people join an organization to receive something they need from it. How else can they decide which one to join unless one has more to offer them in their field of interest than another?

If we are effective as a society, people discover after joining ECGS that they really do gain something from our organization. It can be a combination of things from learning about their ancestors, learning new research techniques and finding new friends who are interested in the same things we are interested in. We all have an interest in common and we never tire of talking about our families and new research techniques. What a great combination!

We need to make sure that newcomers are included in our projects and asked to volunteer to assist. Even if people can only work on small projects it gets them familiar with the society. Sometimes they can feel intimidated because the old timers have been doing the job for ages. Some of us old-timers are getting a little long in the tooth and would welcome new blood. There is always much to be done. It is an on-going service.

Don't be afraid to say yes when you are asked to help your organization's workers. Ongoing projects you could volunteer for:

Monday night indexing	6:30 – 8:00
Wednesday indexing	10:00 – 2:00
Probate Packet scanning Tues.	2:00 – 5:00
Bus Trip Assistance
Proofing of materials Scanned

Many of these projects can be tailored to accommodate your personal life. You can give of your time in whatever way you might be able to help.

How can ECGS grow in numbers? In my humble opinion, only by being more of a presence in the community we exist in, and by serving the needs of the population as they relate to genealogy.

Another way to increase presence and awareness is for members to go out and speak to community groups such as Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions, Elks, American Legion, VFW groups, women's groups, church groups, senior centers, etc.

By volunteering you will be surprised at how much you will learn and grow. I know, for I have been there, and I feel that I have been the winner by doing so..

We asked that you join with us in our efforts so that we can make ECGS the very best society possible.

Without members who are willing to come to meetings, share ideas and support the efforts of the officers, the society would dwindle. Members have a real obligation. It is their duty to let the officers know how they are doing in their endeavors. Officers in a society will come and go...the purpose of the society and the membership are continuing factors and should always be held in highest priority.

Genealogy is like potato salad – when you share it with others it's a picnic. Hopefully 2013 will be a grand and glorious picnic for all of us.

Your support helps ECGS share the remarkable stories of our ancestors.

GFWC Celebrates 125 Years!!!!

WHO ARE WE?

The Charlotte Woman's Club (now GFWC – Charlotte) organized in 1887 as a literary club to “enhance the status of the individual woman.” It became part of an international organization – GFWC – in 1890. Today there are over one million members in the US and in 20 countries – Charlotte's Club has about 100 members. This organization of community-based volunteer women's clubs is dedicated to community service. GFWC programs and projects encompass the major issues of our time.

WHAT DO WE DO?

Unlike most of today's single-issue organizations, GFWC, through its six departments, has programs in the Arts, Conservation, Education, Home Life, International Affairs and Public Affairs. This structure allows us to address the emerging needs of individual communities.

For example, GFWC – Charlotte is locally involved with such programs as Reading is FUNDamental (RIF), Youth Mentoring, Mobile Meals, City Beautification, the Court House Square Association, knitting hats for newborns at Hayes Green Beach Hospital, placing defibrillators in the Charlotte Public Schools, the “Welcome” sign at exit 61, providing scholarships to students, (and their members through the Education Foundation Fund), providing “Kind News” to classroom teachers, assisting the House of Ruth, Girlstown, Bay Cliff, helping with school and public elections, and promoting women's health. (GFWC is responsible for the establishment of 75% of America's public libraries.) In addition, we have had a chorus since 1975 which performs locally and state wide.

HOW ARE WE FUNDED?

The members pay dues and our major fundraiser is a biennial Home Tour, supplemented with product sales, such as wrapping paper, jewelry and candy/nuts.

WHERE CAN YOU GET MORE INFORMATION?

We thank those who help sponsor and donate to these projects and encourage you to attend our Charlotte Home Tours. For more information, contact Linda Foster (517-543-3041), ed@fosterdvm.com

If you are interested in joining GFWC – Charlotte, contact Jessica Edel (269-744-5417),

Ten Facts About Gettysburg - July 1-3, 1863

It is the site of the bloodiest battle of the Civil War and one of the most visited places in the United States, but Gettysburg is still plagued by misinformation. Set the record straight with these ten key facts.

Fact 1: The battle was fought at Gettysburg because of the area road system—it had nothing to do with shoes. The Town of Gettysburg, population 2,000, was a town on the rise. It boasted three newspapers, two institutes of higher learning, several churches and banks, but no shoe factory or warehouse. The ten roads that led into town are what brought the armies to Gettysburg. The shoe myth can be traced to a late-1870s statement by Confederate general Henry Heth.

Fact 2: The First Day's battle was a much larger engagement than is generally portrayed. The first day's fighting (at McPherson's Ridge, Oak Hill, Oak Ridge, Seminary Ridge, Barlow's Knoll and in and around the town) involved some 50,000 soldiers of which roughly 15,500 were killed, wounded, captured or missing. The first day in itself ranks as the 12th bloodiest battle of the Civil War—with more casualties than the battles of Bull Run and Franklin combined.

Fact 3: The Second Day's Battle was the largest and costliest of the three days. The second day's fighting (at Devil's Den, Little Round Top, the Wheatfield, the Peach Orchard, Cemetery Ridge, Trostle's Farm, Culp's Hill and Cemetery Hill) involved at least 100,000 soldiers of which roughly 20,000 were killed, wounded, captured or missing. The second day in itself ranks as the 10th bloodiest battle of the Civil War—with far more casualties than the much larger Battle of Fredericksburg.

Fact 4: Of 120 generals present at Gettysburg, nine were killed or mortally wounded during the battle. On the Confederate side, generals Semmes, Barksdale, Armistead, Garnett, and Pender (plus Pettigrew during the retreat). On the Union side, generals Reynolds, Zook, Weed, and Farnsworth (and Vincent, promoted posthumously). No other battle claimed as many general officers.

Fact 5: Culp's Hill and Cemetery Hill were far more important than Little Round Top. While Little Round Top is far more popular today, its importance to the Union army is at least debatable. The same cannot be said for Culp's Hill and Cemetery Hill. The two latter hills formed the center and right of the Union's main position and also protected the Union army's only real lifeline on July 2 and 3—the Baltimore Pike. Had Confederates captured and controlled either of these two hills, the Union army would have had to leave the Gettysburg area. It is as simple as that. Even with its sweeping views and commanding height, the same cannot be said for Little Round Top.

Fact 6: Pickett's Charge was large and grand but by no means the largest charge of the Civil War. Not even close. Pickett's Charge involved some 12,000 Confederate soldiers, but the Confederate charge at Franklin had roughly 20,000. Even that pales in comparison to the grand Confederate charge at Gaines' Mill which involved more than 50,000 Confederate troops. Even the well-known 260-gun bombardment that preceded Pickett's Charge was not the largest of the war.

There was at least one

bombardment at Petersburg with more than 400 cannons involved.

Fact 7: The Battle of Gettysburg is by far the costliest battle of the Civil War but not necessarily the largest.

While each of the three days of the Battle of Gettysburg rank in the top 15 bloodiest battles of the Civil War—the 160,000 troops present at Gettysburg are eclipsed by the more than 185,000 at Fredericksburg.

Fact 8: 63 Medals of Honor awarded to Union soldiers for their actions at Gettysburg

The deeds spanned the battlefield and were awarded from wartime into the 20th century. Eight were awarded for actions on July 1, and 28 each for actions on July 2 and July 3.

Fact 9: The Gettysburg Address essentially said the same thing as the famous orator Edward Everett's speech but in 1/60th the time.

When Lincoln uttered these two sentences, "We have come to dedicate a portion of that field as a final resting place for those who here gave their lives that that nation might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this," he was essentially repeating an idea that had already been stated—only more succinctly. Everett used more than 5,500 words to make the same point. Most every part of the corresponding speeches can be examined this way and leaves no doubt as to why Everett wrote to Lincoln: "I should be glad, if I could flatter myself that I came as near to the central idea of the occasion, in two hours, as you did in two minutes."

Fact 10: While the Gettysburg Battlefield is well-preserved, there are still numerous parcels to be saved.

The Civil War Trust and the National Park Service have identified several unpreserved parcels which are important to the story of America's greatest battle.

The battlefield itself is among the best resources for historians and others to learn about the battle. The unique terrain, when used in conjunction with the words of those who fought here, images created on the ground, and monuments placed by the veterans, provides an unparalleled learning opportunity. We must continue to work to preserve this hallowed ground.

More Facts

- More than one-third of all known photographs of dead soldiers on Civil War battlefields were recorded at Gettysburg.

- •General George Gordon Meade was only in command for three days before the battle.
- •The Battle of Gettysburg started without the knowledge or consent of either army commander -- Lee or Meade.
- •The 200,000,000 year-old Gettysburg Sill created the volcanic boulders on the Union right and left flanks.
- •It did not rain during the battle, but a heavy downpour soaked the battlefield the day after.
- •General Lee lost 23 battle flags in Pickett's Charge -- more than he had lost in the previous 14 months combined.
